

InsSciDE

Inventing a shared Science
Diplomacy for Europe

InsSciDE is a groundbreaking research project centered on science diplomacy tools and practices in Europe.

The First Open Conference provides a unique space for cross-sectoral dialogue and innovation with science diplomacy researchers, experts and practitioners.

FIRST OPEN CONFERENCE

KRAKÓW | POLAND

Friday 18 - Sunday 20 January 2019

EU Migration Challenges:
What Can Diplomacy and Science Together Contribute?

Opening addresses at 18:00 on Friday. Sessions conclude at 13:00 on Sunday.

Addressing Global Challenges:
The Invention of Science
Diplomacy

Featuring: plenary and break-out dialogue; panel sessions; discovery round tables; social and networking opportunities.

An opportunity...

We warmly invite experts and practitioners of science diplomacy to take advantage of an opportunity for high-level dialogue, networking, and learning exchange.

Exploring pressing issues and challenges relating to European migration, the Open Conference stands out in revealing connections to science, technology and diplomacy.

Enrich understanding and expand networks: take part in debates and intensive round tables on science diplomacy.
